INAMA

Founded in 1950 by Giuseppe Inama in the Colli Berici hills of the Veneto, Inama has grown into one of the region's most respected family estates. Today led by Stefano Inama and his sons, the winery is celebrated for bringing new prestige to Soave Classico — especially through single-vineyard bottlings from ancient volcanic basalt soils in Foscarino. Inama was among the first to prove that Garganega, the soul of Soave, could produce wines of real complexity and ageing potential. Beyond white wines, they have pioneered Carmenere on the Colli Berici, a variety with deep historical roots in the Veneto long before it became synonymous with Chile.

Pietradolce was born in 2005 from a passion for Mount Etna, the iconic Sicilian volcano whose ancient lava soils produce wines of rare mineral intensity and elegance. Located in Solicchiata on the north slope of Etna, the estate works exclusively with Nerello Mascalese and Carricante grown at altitudes between 650 and 1,000 metres above sea level. The extreme terroir — volcanic soils, dramatic temperature swings, and century-old ungrafted vines — shapes wines of profound depth and finesse. Pietradolce is widely regarded as one of the benchmark producers of the Etna DOC, crafting bottlings that rival the great wines of Burgundy in their sense of place.

CHAMPAGNE
JACQUESSON
— FAMILLE CHIQUET —

One of Champagne's oldest and most storied houses, Jacquesson was founded in Reims in 1798 and by the early 19th century had already earned Napoleon's personal patronage. Today the house is guided by brothers Jean-Hervé and Laurent Chiquet, who abandoned volume in favour of an uncompromising focus on quality. Their iconoclastic Cuvée series — a single multi-vintage blend that changes number each year — has become one of the most sought-after non-vintage Champagnes in the world. Jacquesson's vineyards in Aÿ, Avize, and Dizy yield small-production single-vineyard wines defined by precision, tension, and extraordinary longevity.

CHAMPAGNE
CHARLES HEIDSIECK

Maison fondée à Reims en 1851

Founded in Reims in 1851 by the legendary Charles-Camille Heidsieck — the real-life inspiration for 'Champagne Charlie' — Charles Heidsieck is one of the Grand Marques of Champagne with a rich and adventurous history. Long regarded as one of the most underrated prestige houses, it produces wines of exceptional depth and vinosity, thanks in part to an unusually high proportion of reserve wines aged in the famous crayères — vast chalk cellars carved beneath Reims. The Blanc des Millénaires, produced only in exceptional years from old-vine Chardonnay in Le Mesnil-sur-Oger, is considered one of Champagne's greatest blanc de blancs.

The Tarlant family has been growing vines in Oeuilly, on the left bank of the Marne, since 1687 — making them one of Champagne's oldest vigneron families. Today Benoît and Mélanie Tarlant represent the fourteenth generation, farming 14 hectares of exceptional terroir with a deep commitment to expressing the unique character of each individual lieu-dit. Tarlant was a pioneer of zero-dosage Champagne long before it became fashionable, and their singular single-vineyard wines — some from pre-phylloxera ungrafted vines, some fermented in amphora — represent the cutting edge of grower Champagne. Precise, mineral, and unmistakably authentic.
